

A MESSAGE FROM YEAR SIX

This half term has been a demanding one for Year 6 as we built-up to SATS tests. Over the last few weeks, they have shown a tremendous amount of maturity in both their learning and behaviours. They have been relishing the opportunity to be role models and to showcase what they have learnt throughout their time at school.

During the actual SATS week, we could not have asked for more from Year 6 - they were fully focussed and did themselves extremely proud. Whatever the outcome of the tests, all the staff at Mile Oak are immensely proud of them. Tests are part of education and general life - an opportunity to help prepare Year 6 for their next stage of schooling.

We have consistently reminded them that how they do in their SATS does not, and will not, define them as people; we know exactly how wonderful they are regardless of a test score. In fact, we saw how wonderful they are during the mornings and afternoons of SATS week.

They were their energetic, jokey selves at breakfast club and up on the field playing games. It was lovely to see their personalities shine through and to have lots of fun with them amongst the testing. The whole year thoroughly enjoyed their well-deserved post SATS picnic celebration too!

This term, year 6 have been learning about visual literacy and graffiti for our Art learning. Take a look at some of their amazing artistic tags.
